STYLIST & IMAGE CONSULTANT

Caitlin is a Personal Stylist and Wardrobe & Image Consultant based in Sydney. In addition to a large database of personal clients she holds a passion for professional, corporate image and media styling.

She consults with a broad range of clients both locally and interstate and has a personal client database of over 2000 clients. She started her fashion journey in sales and public relations, but before too long discovered her calling as a Personal Stylist. She has now called the styling arena her home for 20 years and offers a diverse range of styling services to individuals and companies across the country.

QUALIFICATIONS

Caitlin holds relevant training qualifications which adds credibility to her service offerings. She has tertiary marketing and fashion business qualifications, specialising in fashion styling and consulting. She has trained in image consulting in Australia and the fashion capital itself, Milan, Italy. She is a qualified Colour Analysis Consultant, has conducted several short courses on presenting for television at NIDA and holds her up to date 'Certificate IV in Training and Assessment. In 2024, she completed a Graduate Certificate in Psychology and Business Management through Curtin University to strengthen her corporate styling practice with deeper behavioural and organisational insight.

INTERNATIONAL EXPERIENCE & TRAINING

In 2005, Caitlin further developed her skills by training at Instituto Marangoni Fashion College, Milan, Italy. She completed style and image training and undertook a range of styling projects with visitors and locals within Milan. Whilst in Milan, she worked with emerging Italian designers, styled fashion shows along with industry professionals and local entertainers. Milano is where her passion for personal styling was born.

TEACHING & MENTORING

In 2009, Caitlin was invited to lecture in styling and fashion business at FBI Fashion College in Sydney, where she remained an educator for over 15 years. During this time, she facilitated fashion business and styling workshops and was actively involved in the student mentoring program. As a proud alumna of the college, having completed her training in 2003, it was a full circle experience.

CORPORATE & PROFESSIONAL CONSULTING

Caitlin is widely regarded as one of Australia's leading authorities in corporate and professional styling. Her work spans industries and sectors, from professional services and law to aviation, finance, and pharmaceuticals. She specialises in high level image and branding projects, often complex and far-reaching.

She regularly facilitates workshops and seminars on corporate image, executive presence, and workplace dress standards. She works closely with some of the country's most influential leaders in politics and business, including a significant number of Sydney's top legal professionals. Known for her discretion, she prioritises client confidentiality and trust above visibility, ensuring a service that is both strategic and professional.

PRESENTING

Caitlin is a confident presenter and experienced facilitator. She has had the pleasure of speaking at numerous company events and special event luncheons sharing her expertise on professional image, fashion and the latest seasonal trends. She has even been invited as a contributor on several national television segments.

Caitlin has taken the stage with industry leaders such as, Akira Isogawa, Gretel Killeen, Kate Waterhouse, Natalie Barr and former Vogue editor in chief, Kirstie Clements.

MEDIA AND WARDROBE STYLING

Caitlin enjoys media styling professionals across news and lifestyle and regularly styles clients for media events which have included The Logies, AACTA's and the Australian Commercial Radio Awards.

Caitlin headed up wardrobe for Network Ten's lifestyle show, The Living Room for 8 years styling key talent and guests across studio and location. She was also engaged by networks, Foxtel and Channel 9 and ABC's national breakfast show, News Breakfast as their wardrobe stylist for 6 years. She also styles presenters from ABC News, Victoria.

A memorable media project involved styling renowned actor, Anthony La Paglia for 'The Black Hand' documentary series which aired on ABC iview in 2023.

RETAIL & EVENTS

Caitlin has extensive experience partnering with shopping centres on seasonal fashion activations, where her team coordinate and host events and workshops. These centres include AMP Capital, Lend Lease, GPT Group, Stockland, Westfield and Colonial First State.

She was engaged by Westfield to support the training and development of their in-centre Personal Stylists, with a focus on colour analysis. She also led the visual merchandising for a prominent centre and hosted fashion shows, masterclasses, and one-on-one styling sessions. Each season she collaborates with leading shopping centres to deliver high-impact fashion styling events.

Her tertiary marketing qualifications enable her to take the reins with the event management of these campaigns offering a cost effective and targeted seasonal fashion campaign.

VOLUNTEER PROJECTS

Caitlin has worked extensively with Sydney organisation, Dress For Success Sydney, assisting disadvantaged women to achieve self-sufficiency and independence. This was achievable through volunteering wardrobe styling services and facilitating workshops on image and presentation for high school students, women experiencing vulnerability and women in local correctional facilities. She has also worked with Dress for Success on training and developing new volunteers and developing training content for the organisations volunteer presenters.

Caitlin has facilitated empowering workshops for women through partnerships with the St Vincent de Paul Society and The Salvation Army. She has collaborated with NOVA Employment, a disability employment service, delivering professional presentation workshops for their job candidates. Alongside her team Caitlin has recently supported the Sydney Breast Cancer Foundation with full styling and show coordination for their Annual Ladies Lunch Fashion Parade.

Caitlin welcomes the opportunity volunteer her time to facilitate workshops in schools in lower socio-economic areas of Sydney along with groups in marginalised communities.

VISION

Caitlin's passion lies with personal styling and with styling as her full-time career, she is highly results driven. Caitlin enjoys collaborating with inspiring individuals and companies alike on targeted and challenging briefs. Her key objective is to continue to develop tailored image solutions for clients with a modern edge, whilst solving personal image briefs with creativity and understanding.

Authenticity, Presence and Connection are at the core of Caitlin's values.
